PRICE TWO CENTS.

BOSTON MILK PRODUCERS

Local Branch Organized Here and Vote Taken on Price

A local branch of the Boston cooperative milk producers' company was organized at the probate court room this forenoon with these officers:

President, Frederick Pickering of Newington.

Secretary, Daniel W. Badger of Portsmouth.

Executive committee, the president and secretary, Albert Hilslop of Portsmouth, Andrew K. Roberts of Greenland, Melvin Wilson of Kittery, Geo. Brown of Rye.

The meeting was called by W. A. Hunter of Worcester, Mass., secretary of the company, and was under the direction of Frank Perkins of Newbury, Mass., director for the vicinity of Newburyport.

Mr. Perkins called the meeting to order at 10.25 o'clock, and made a brief speech to the effect that the farmers are not getting enough for milk especially in seasons of such drought, as those of the last two summers, and the organization in Massachusetts felt the need of reaching the rest of the territory that supplies milk to Boston and suburbs. He had conducted meetings at Newbury, Hampton Falls and Exeter at which there were organized local branches of the Boston Cooperative Milk Producers' Association and hoped to see one formed here.

Mr. W. A. Hunter of Worcester displayed a large map of New England showing the Boston milk supply points covering Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Vermont, reaching far into Maine, and embracing small portions of Connecticut, New York and Canada. He had recently been present when local branches were organized at Bar Mills, Kennebunk and North Berwick in York county, and Rochester in Strafford county, and told at length of the farmer's difficulties and the increasing cost of milk to the producer, including the extreme troubles of August, the season of flies when cows are sure to fall off in yield and in individual value.

Other speakers were President W. A. Stone of the Exeter local branch, Frederick Pickering, James Howard

Knox, Albert Hilslop, Joseph Schurman.

It was finally decided to vote that the average milk price for the coming summer should be the same as this winter, 38 1/2 cents per can of 8 1/2 quarts this to vary from month to month as may be agreed by the milk contractors and the directors of the Boston Cooperative Milk Producers' Company. This was accompanied by the statement that the milk producer's might receive an order to withhold their supply and several voices were heard to say that "it's coming to that some time, any way," or words to that effect.

It was voted to sign orders to the contractors that they hold back one twentieth of a cent on each can and pay that to the Boston Cooperative Milk Producers' Company.

There were twenty-eight local producers of Boston milk present at the meeting.

The Knapp plan of agreements as to maximum and minimum amounts from each producer was discussed at considerable length but was not the subject of any action.

A GOOD MAN RETIRES

John F. Cutler, for several years connected with the Newburyport fire department and for some time past chief engineer of the same, retired from the position on Wednesday.

He is well known among the fire fighters of this city who make no hesitation in saying that the retiring chief was a good man in this line of duty.

CURRIER

MAY BE SPEAKER

Washington, Feb. 1.—The list of New England prospective candidates for the speakership continues to grow.

Ascher C. Hinds of Maine, who is mentioned as a candidate in case he is elected to congress from the Portland district yesterday, suggested Representative Currier of New Hampshire.

Representative Foster of Vermont agreed with Mr. Hinds that Mr. Currier would make a first rate speaker.

Mr. Currier modestly refuses to talk about the matter, but it is known he would not decline the honor.

His friends say that if a regular republican is to be elected speaker, the insurgents would prefer Mr. Currier.

The New Hampshire man has been high in the favor of the insurgents for some time, but especially since the recent caucus that nominated a slate for membership of the Ballinger-Pinchot investigating committee.

Mr. Currier, who presided, treated all sides so fairly on that occasion that the insurgents have ever since been singing his praises.

MAY INTERVENE IN NICARAGUA

United States May take Charge of Things in That Little Country

New York, Feb. 1.—The World today publishes the following:

Washington, Jan. 31.—The establishing of a provisional government by the United States in Nicaragua, contemplated from the beginning of the trouble as inevitable, is expected by officials here to take place in the immediate future.

Advices from several United States consuls state that American citizens have been impressed into the Madriz army and that American property again has been despoiled.

Consuls on the eastern coast report that Estrada has started a force to meet and engage in battle a part of the Madriz army, and the United States cruiser Tacoma, now at Port Limon, will proceed at once to Bluefields, according to Assistant Secretary of the Navy Winthrop.

The Des Moines is there now prepared to put a force of bluejackets ashore.

From the western side comes information from Consul Olivares.

Rear Admiral Kimball is in charge of the American warships, and both the navy department and Assistant Secretary of State Wilson said that the admiral needed no orders to put Marines ashore and take charge of the government at Managua.

Officials of the state and navy departments are indignant over the reported treatment of Americans, and many of them say that it is the first time in 100 years that Americans have been impressed into foreign service.

They point out that the impressing of American citizens into service in the British navy and merchant marine brought on the war of 1812.

Neither the secretary of state nor the secretary of the navy would say just what moves the American forces and vessels in Nicaraguan waters will make in the next twelve hours, but they assert that the officials in command have been instructed to protect Americans.

Admiral Kimball in command of all American forces in Nicaragua, stationed at Corinto, has been communicated with. He will follow Consul Olivares in making a demand on President Madriz for the immediate release of the six Americans.

At the navy department it was stated that Admiral Kimball has full power to order an armed intervention, but no one seemed to know just what sort of intervention it would be.

The British may also send forces ashore at Greytown, as many subjects of the British crown live in that section of Nicaragua. It was stated that if British forces are landed they will only look after the property of British subjects and leave to the United States forces the task of ending the war.

Both the British and Americans in the country have asked, it is declared on authority, that one or the other of those powers interfere and end the struggle. They complain that the war is injuring their business and unless it ceases many of them will be ruined.

All reports indicate that the troops under Estrada are attempting to give the foreigners in the land every protection and that in several instances the revolutionist leader has issued proclamations in which he announced that his troops were at all times ready to protect foreigners.

EVENTS OF ELIOT

Next Year's State School Aid for the Town

Peculiarities of Town's Social Life This Winter

Eliot, Me., Feb. 1.

The Grange Dramatic club has been invited by the Grange at Rollinsford to present "A Noble Outcast" in that town, and will do so in the near future.

Murray Nelson is laid up with a bad cold and Scott Staples is carrying the Herald on his route.

Under the new law a state tax of one and one half mills is to be assessed annually upon all the property of the state for the support of common schools. The fund raised by this new tax will be additional to the common school fund hitherto provided.

The fund made available by the new law will be distributed to the cities, towns and plantations on the basis of one-third according to the number of scholars and two-thirds according to the valuation as fixed by the board of state assessors.

Under this law Eliot will receive $2,503.86 on Jan. 1 next, if the town is at that time free and clear of obligations to the state.

Charles W. Gray will give his song lecture on "Famous Old Hymns and Their Makers" next Sunday evening at the Congregational church.

The social life of Eliot is taking a different turn this winter from that of a year ago. The cribbage club is not meeting, the club room over H. E. Splaine's store has been vacant and the town has no lecture course.

Instead of these there are more church and grange entertainments than a year ago, and there are many more little impromptu neighborhood evening gatherings.

Mrs. Furber of Lynn, Mass., who is visiting her nephew, William E. Falconer, has been seriously ill with acute indigestion.

GREAT INTEREST IN COURT MARTIAL

Trial of Paymaster Auld and Surgeon Robnett Begun at Boston.

Boston, Feb. 1.—Never within recent years has so much interest been shown in a court-martial as at the Charlestown navy yard as was evidenced Monday when the trial of Paymaster George Percival Auld, U. S. N., and Assistant Surgeon A. H. Robnett, U. S. N., both attached to the local station, were placed on trial on charges preferred by Dr. Edward S. Cowles, brother of Rear Admiral Cowles and second cousin to Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt.

The trial was held in the large hearing room at the Yards and Docks building, but it proved so small for the crowd in attendance that the afternoon session was shifted to the armory hall. Around the long table in the middle of the room were seated the members of the court, each in full dress uniform of his rank, the president, Captain James M. Helm, at one end, and the judge advocate, Major Albertus W. Catlin, U. S. M. C., at the other end. The members of the court besides the president are: Commander John E. Luby, Surgeon Eugene P. Stone, Surgeon George B. Wilson, Lieutenant Commander Julian L. Laflamme, Paymaster S. Jackson, Paymaster Herbert E. Stevens, Passed Assistant Surgeon Frederick A. Assonson and Paymaster Edward E. Goodhue. The two men accused in the formal charges, Paymaster Auld and Surgeon Robnett, were seated at a table at one side of the court's table, and near the judge advocate end. With them were their counsel, Major Henry Leonard, a famous marine corps officer of Boxer Rebellion fame, for Auld, and Captain Herbert J. Hirschinger, U. S. M. C., for Robnett. Every available inch of space in the remainder of the room was occupied by prospective witnesses or spectators when the court called to order.

At the door two bristly marines in full uniform stood guard and outside in the corridor a naval officer, Ensign Sloan Danehower, arrayed in gilt braided uniform and carrying his sword, kept a watchful eye on the crowd. Among the spectators were Rear Admiral A. S. Snow, U. S. N., retired, formerly commandant of the Charlestown navy yard, but now living in Rockland, Me.; Pay Director George B. Hendee, retired, of Brookline; Colonel Thomas N. Wood, commandant of marines at Charlestown, and other naval officers. Miss Margaret Ames, who is understood to be friendly with parties concerned in the trial and her father, Dr. Howard E. Ames, a medical director of the navy, a number of relatives of Auld and Robnett including several ladies, and numerous other persons not directly interested were present.

As soon as the court had been convened the orders calling for it were read. The president then swore the judge advocate in the faithful performance of his duty and in turn, the judge advocate swore the members of the court together. These formalities having been dispensed with, Major Leonard, counsel for Auld, arose and addressed the court, all witnesses having meantime been sent from the room, by order of Captain Helm. Major Leonard called the court's attention to the fact that one of the witnesses, who had been summoned, was represented by a lawyer, and that while the witness had left the room the lawyer remained to hear. On request he said that the attorney was H. W. Ogden.

The court ordered the room cleared and, according to the naval custom, considered its action in private. Five minutes later when the session was declared open again Captain Helm announced that Mr. Ogden should be excluded from the room and he left immediately, although not until he had asked permission to be heard and had been refused.

The official charges were read to Paymaster Auld. They charge conduct unbecoming an officer and gentleman at the dance, falsehood in stating at the time that his action was known and approved by Miss Margaret E. Ames, and unjustifiable assault upon Dr. Edward S. Cowles.

Major Leonard moved that the first and third charges be stricken out. Maj. Leonard stated that the department had taken every action that barred trial, because the latter was a formal reprimand.

After long deliberation the court overruled Maj. Leonard's plea and directed that the charges stand.

Paymaster Auld was called upon to plead to the charges and specifications. "Not guilty" was his determined answer to each.

Dr. Cowles was the first witness. He told of being approached at the dance by Auld and Robnett and of Auld's request that he leave the hall. He asked for an explanation and was told by Auld that Miss Ames knew of the action and approved of it. Witness said he went to Miss Ames for an explanation and she indignantly denied any knowledge of the matter and sent for Auld and Robnett. Mrs. Cowles also asked for an explanation and it was refused.

When the explanation was repeatedly refused Dr. Cowles stated that he told Auld that he was a "common cowardly cur." Some minutes later, the crowd in attendance at the afternoon session was shifted to the armory hall. Around the long table in the middle of the room were seated the members of the court, each in full dress uniform of his rank, the president, Captain James M. Helm, at one end, and the judge advocate, Major Albertus W. Catlin, U. S. M. C., at the other end. The members of the court besides the president are: Commander John E. Luby, Surgeon Eugene P. Stone, Surgeon George B. Wilson, Lieutenant Commander Julian L. Laflamme, Paymaster S. Jackson, Paymaster Herbert E. Stevens, Passed Assistant Surgeon Frederick A. Assonson and Paymaster Edward E. Goodhue. The two men accused in the formal charges, Paymaster Auld and Surgeon Robnett, were seated at a table at one side of the court's table, and near the judge advocate end. With them were their counsel, Major Henry Leonard, a famous marine corps officer of Boxer Rebellion fame, for Auld, and Captain Herbert J. Hirschinger, U. S. M. C., for Robnett. Every available inch of space in the remainder of the room was occupied by prospective witnesses or spectators when the court called to order.

Miss Margaret Ames, who is understood to be friendly with parties concerned in the trial and her father, Dr. Howard E. Ames, a medical director of the navy, a number of relatives of Auld and Robnett including several ladies, and numerous other persons not directly interested were present.

As soon as the court had been convened the orders calling for it were read. The president then swore the judge advocate in the faithful performance of his duty and in turn, the judge advocate swore the members of the court together. These formalities having been dispensed with, Major Leonard, counsel for Auld, arose and addressed the court, all witnesses having meantime been sent from the room, by order of Captain Helm. Major Leonard called the court's attention to the fact that one of the witnesses, who had been summoned, was represented by a lawyer, and that while the witness had left the room the lawyer remained to hear. On request he said that the attorney was H. W. Ogden.

The court ordered the room cleared and, according to the naval custom, considered its action in private. Five minutes later when the session was declared open again Captain Helm announced that Mr. Ogden should be excluded from the room and he left immediately, although not until he had asked permission to be heard and had been refused.

The official charges were read to Paymaster Auld. They charge conduct unbecoming an officer and gentleman at the dance, falsehood in stating at the time that his action was known and approved by Miss Margaret E. Ames, and unjustifiable assault upon Dr. Edward S. Cowles.

with this query: "Is this Dr. Cowles?" Dr. Cowles replied in the affirmative. Paymaster Auld who was treasurer of the social fund at the yard, said to Dr. Cowles: "You are not a desirable person here and we wish you to withdraw."

Dr. Cowles asked for an explanation. Auld said an explanation was not necessary. Dr. Cowles insisted. One of them said: "I don't like your face or the cut of your jib" or something to that effect.

Auld did not to knowledge of witness make any pretence of acting for the hop committee.

In reply to a question as to why Paymaster Auld objected to Dr. Cowles' presence, Dr. Robnett said that it was of an incident before the hall regarding the character and reputation of a young lady. Dr. Cowles was charged with having made statements. Dr. Robnett was continuing when Maj. Catlin, the judge advocate, objected as it was hearsay.

Maj. Leonard, counsel for Auld, claimed it was a legitimate question owing to the general talk that had been made in the yard that Dr. Cowles was an objectionable person. The court allowed the question.

Witnesses said Cowles had boasted of his conquest on Nov. 27 on the navy yard tug which took the yard guests to and from a dance at Fort Warren. Miss Virginia Swift had said to him that Dr. Cowles was boasting of a conquest of Miss Dorothy Hesler and the statement should be looked into regarding whom the statement was made.

The statements were, witness said, that Dr. Cowles had shown her marked attention and that she was much alarmed over the talk and disturbed by it, as Dr. Cowles is a married man. He was present at Rear Admiral Swift's house when the whole matter was discussed. Misses Swift, Ames and Hesler and Paymaster Auld were there. Miss Ames said she did not feel that she could withdraw Dr. Cowles' name.

Do you yourself know anything about Dr. Cowles to show he is an objectionable person? witness was asked by Maj. Leonard.

"Yes," replied Dr. Robnett: "I know that Dr. Cowles has been practicing in Boston without a license and that he 'cribbed' to try and pass an examination to procure a license."

Hearings were resumed at ten o'clock this forenoon. The evidence is expected to be closed and considered by the court in secret session this afternoon.

Mrs. Thomas Finn of Gill street has been taken to the cottage hospital for treatment for an internal trouble.

Col. Fred W. Sanborn and Adjutant Alvin W. Foss went to Somersworth on Monday night where they inspected the order of the Uniformed Rank Knights of Pythias of that city.

The George S. Cobb camp, Sons of Veterans, held a nickel social Monday evening in Red Men's hall. It was an enjoyable event and well attended.

The January meeting of the First Parish Men's club was held Monday evening in the church lecture room. W. E. Cram of Hampton Falls gave a talk on "Birds and Animals of Our Vicinity." The talk was interesting, and a large number were present.

The Renaissance club met Monday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Harlan M. Blaine. The paper was read by Miss Chiley on "The Private Life of the Greeks in the Fifth Century."

Coach George S. Connors of the academy track team has selected a team of fifteen men to represent the school at the athletic meet of the Boston Athletic association on Feb. 12. The representation will include 10 yards dash, Capt. Cornell, Barnes, O'Hara and Courtney; 600 yards run, Bingham and Barlow; 1000 yards run, Bingham and Rabbette; mile run, Cullinap, Dougherty and MacKenzie; high jump, MacDougall; hurdles, Gilis, Crandall and Litchfield; shot put, Pearson. It is not expected that the team will make a very strong showing owing to the star performers who are to be competitors, and the delegation which will represent the New Hampshire school is for the most part being sent in order to acquire knowledge of competition, and for the benefit of the experience. Exeter will, however, send a team to the interscholastic meet on Feb. 26, which should approach pretty closely to the winners.

After a recess since last Thursday, superior court came in again on Monday. The docket was called at the morning session, and the case to be tried at the beginning of the afternoon session was that of the state by Mary E. THEATRICAL TOPICS

"The Man and the Mummy"

For several seasons managers and heatresors have been inguiting and demanding attractions where music, comedy, dances and pretty girls were the dominant features. In presenting Phil Ott and his comedians, we are giving you the brightest and best musical comedy success of the season. One of these "The Man and the Mummy" is described as a "Spanish-American melange, the action of which is laid in Montezuma, Mexico, a deals with situations where Treasures, Plunders, Grandees, Sonatas and Sonoras play important parts.

There isn't a great deal of plot to be piece, but there is a whole lot of fun and the man or woman who could laugh it all without laughing until tears stream down his or her cheeks must be blasé indeed. The action of the plot has to do with a mummy that comes to life and creates no end of trouble because she is so beautiful that everyone—that is to say every male one—immediately falls in love with her. The game of cross purposes is well played and as a result everyone is soon hopelessly tangled up.

Intermingled with the comedy is a "hole lot of really catchy music and sets of first class specialties so that here is plenty of variety to the entertainment. Some of the best songs are "I Was a Hero Too," "Nobody Loves a Fat Man," "Cubancita Glide" and others.

The principal comedy role, Phil Ott, is played by that always funny comedian, Phil Ott. It is needless to say that his work is clean cut and right up to the moment. Blanche Parquette as the Mummy who comes to life, looks handsome and sings in splendid voice. Others in the big company are Ben Loring, Flora Cushing, Al Steadman, Fannie Steadman, Nellie Ott and a competent chorus of pretty girls.

Phil Ott and his comedians will be at Music Hall Feb. 14, 15 and 16.

CONFESSION OF LOMBARD

Admits Forgery of Town
of Framingham Notes

NUMBER AT LEAST TEN

Former Town Treasurer Appears as Witness Against Note Broker Cummings, Who Is Charged With Larceny and Uttering Forged Instrument—Fine-Looking Man Has Recently Developed into a Wreck

Cambridge, Mass., Feb. 1.—Tottering to the witness stand on the arm
of a court officer, replying to the questions of the government attorney
in a voice that could not be heard ten feet away, John B. Lombard, formerly town treasurer of Framingham,
now an old, broken man, confessed
to forging the names of the board of selectmen of Framingham to a prom-issory note of $15,000.

Lombard was the third witness
called in the trial of Charles S. Cummings, the note broker, who was indicted in the Framingham case and who is specifically charged with larceny on two counts and uttering a forged instrument on one count. One charge of larceny is that he stole $14,- 440 from the Framingham Savings Institution of Lowell while the other charges the larceny of $15,000 from the town of Framingham. One of these charges will be dropped. The other charge is uttering a forged promissory note for $15,000 of the town of Framingham.

For an hour or more before he was called to the witness stand Lombard
had been sitting at the side of the courtroom. Those who knew the former treasurer of Framingham and who had not seen him for some months hardly recognized in this bowed
and sad-faced person the fine-looking man whom they used to see. His long gray curly hair hung almost to his collar, his face was ashen and he looked sick.

When Assistant District Attorney
Wier called out the name "John B.
Lombard," he attempted to rise from his seat, but was unable to do so only
after a stalwart court officer went to his assistance. Hardly able to drag
one foot after the other, he went to the witness stand and was seated by permission of the court. Even that effort seemed to exhaust him, and he had to be given a glass of water before he could give his name in answer
to the query of the government attorney.

The witness then told his story, answering in monosyllables when possible, and hardly above a whisper. He said that in 1908 he knew the defendant Cummings and that he was a note
broker dealing in promissory and town notes. Then Wier, by question after question, brought out the pitiable confession of the former trusted official.

Lombard was cross-questioned by Henry C. Long, counsel for Cummings. Lombard said he could not remember when the wrong-doing in connection with the issuance of notes
began. He first met Cummings when the latter worked for E. H. Gay, & Co. He did some business with him
and later with the agents for other brokers. He said he felt he was in trouble about two years ago. He had worried a great deal about the matter and his memory was so hazy that he could not remember just how many notes he had forged, but that there were at least ten such notes. He said he had kept a partial memorandum of
the notes.

Lombard, continuing, said that he had gone to the district attorney's office two weeks ago voluntarily and told everything about the matter he could remember. Long asked him if it had occurred to him if he gave up
these facts it might not give him a lighter sentence if he should be sentenced. Lombard said that the had not considered that, and that nothing
had been said about any sentence.

STIRRED UP BY M'CALL

Ways and Means Committee Takes
Up Question of High Prices

Washington, Feb. 1.—Representative McCall (Mass.) started the ball
rolling for a congressional investigation of the cost of living when he poked up the ways and means committee into endorsing the movement.

The committee had met to consider the Payne resolution to legalize a further issue of Panama bonds, which later passed the house. The committee was about to adjourn when McCall
inquired what action was to be taken
with regard to an investigation of high prices.

A discussion followed, the upshot of which was that McCall and Champ-Clark, the Democratic leader, both members of the committee, were directed to prepare a resolution providing for an investigation of the subject
by the committee on ways and means.
This is the committee which reported
the tariff bill, with its alleged disregard of the "ultimate consumer."

LOOKING IN SHOP WINDOWS

One of the Pleasures of Taft, Who Finds White House Life Is Isolation

Washington, Feb. 1.—Talking as if he were merely a friend who had dropped in for a short chat and not the President of the United States, Mr.
Taft revealed much of his personal
side to the newspaper men of the national capital at an informal reception given him at the National Press
club.

Prepared for a stroll along the busy thoroughfares of the city which he took after he left the club, the president declared he found much pleasure
in walking and looking in the shop
windows.

Speaking of the White House and its duties the president said there was a
"sense of isolation in life" there in that
"nobody just drops in on one in a
neighborly way, but all the callers
come by engagement."

UNJUST PUNISHMENT WON'T BE PAID FOR

Bay State Legislature Turns
Down Compensation Bill

Boston, Feb. 1.—Mrs. Grace Marley of Lynn appeared for the eighth
time before the legislature yesterday
to demand $3000 as compensation for damages incurred while she was detained at the Danvers insane hospital.
Mrs. Marley claims that she was committed illegally, and that she was detained ten years.

There is also a bill in the legislature to permit Michael Hurley to recover compensation for fourteen months' labor at Deer Island. He was sentenced for contempt of court, and
after fourteen months' imprisonment
the supreme court decided that he had not been in contempt.

In the house yesterday afternoon,
the bill was killed to provide compensation for persons unlawfully or unjustly imprisoned or fined.

New York, Feb. 1.—Huddled in his stepmother's wardrobe, too weak to stand and pitifully emaciated from starvation, Joseph Steen, 8 years old,
was taken in charge by officers of the Children's society and a warrant was sworn out for Mrs. Mary Steen, the stepmother. No statement from her
has thus far been obtainable, but it is understood that her husband, the boy's father, died a year ago.

Joseph's mind has become affected
and he is unable to give any account
of why he was kept confined. Neighbors brought the case to the attention of the police.

SAW ALLDS GET $1000 AS BRIBE

Sensational Statement by Conger, His Colleague

FORMAL CHARGE IS FILED

Bombshell Hurled into New York
Legislature Creates a Stir Among Republicans—Even More Startling
Than Had Been Expected—Possibility of Both Men Withdrawing Permanently From the Senate

Albany, Feb. 1.—The written
charges of Senator Conger of Tompkins county that his colleague and former staunch friend, Senator Jotham P. Allds, Republican leader of the senate, demanded and received a bribe of $1000, in his presence, to influence him to defeat a certain bill
were filed here with Lafayette B.
Olson, clerk of the senate.

JOTHAM P. ALLDS.
Senator Conger's document is in conformity with an order of the senate. The contents of the paper are more surprising and direct than had been expected. He makes the charge
without any reservations and declares
that he (Allds) "accepted the money
in my presence."

Even more sensational than had been expected, the formal charges
were prepared in New York by Conger
and Augustus Van Wyck and James W. Osborne.

The first direct charge reads as follows: "That Jotham P. Allds, on or about April 23, 1901, while a member of the assembly, received and accepted the sum of $1000 in my presence at the capitol, in the city of Albany."

"Second—That the said sum was demanded by him and was paid in and accepted by him as the consideration
for his having refrained from pressing
to passage a certain bill pending before that house."

Under the rules of the senate,
adopted for this particular case, the charges against the accused senator
were required to be in by Feb. 1. It was prescribed also that Allds, who has retained Martin W. Littleton as his attorney, must have his answer
filed by Feb. 4, and it was further arranged that the actual trial of Allds
by the full senate should begin on Feb. 8.

Senator Conger's direct charge
against his colleague, whom he has known intimately for years, and who had just begun his duties as president
pro tem of the senate when the Conger bombshell was hurled into the legislature, has already created a stir among Republicans who have heard inklings about it.

Should it be left as a mere question of veracity between the two senators, there is a belief among some of the Republicans that both Allds and Conger will permanently withdraw from the senate. Both men are now temporarily out of the senate, having
asked for permission to absent themselves until the trial is finished.

Senator Allds will put in his answer a sweeping denial of the entire charge. When the matter first came before the senate he stood up and
branded the story as a "malicious lie,"
designed to injure him and the organization to which he belongs.

Nothing But Fun In It

Brewster, Mass., Feb. 1.—Agnes
Y. Phillips, aged 6, of East Brewster, fell from a third-story window in her
home and jumped up and walked away, smilingly exclaiming: "My, it's fun to fly; I'd like to try it again!"

Her frightened mother, standing near by, shrieked for help and then fainted. Mrs. Phillips regained consciousness and was greatly surprised
to see her supposedly killed daughter
standing before her.

Given Away.
A minister in Cornwall who was

me because I sit behind the pillar!"

"The pillar, John? Good gracious,
the pillar? Why, it's two years since it was removed from the front of your seat!"—Exchange.

DAUGHTER OF ADMIRAL

Said to Have Stirred Up Row Which Results in Court Martial

Boston, Feb. 1.—Miss Virginia
Swift, daughter of Admiral Swift, was named in the "Dorothy Healer court martial" at the navy yard as the one who gave the hint that resulted in Paymaster Auld and Dr. Cowles having a makeup at an officers' dance.

After the prosecution had closed,
Dr. Robnett, the reported fiancé of Miss Healer, and who is named with Auld in Cowles' charges of "insult and assault," testified that Miss Swift told him reports were going the rounds
about statements Cowles was said to have made concerning Miss Healer.

Dr. Robnett consulted Auld and then came the now famous clash when they ordered Cowles, on a subsequent
evening, from the crowded ballroom.

EX-QUEEN LIL IN BOSTON

Present Visit in Marked Contrast to
That of Some Years Ago

Boston, Feb. 1.—Liliuokalani, one
time queen of the Hawaiian Islands,
slipped into this city Sunday so quietly that few people knew she had arrived. Her coming was in direct contrast to her appearance here nearly a quarter of a century ago, when the lavish expenditures made by the city
government for her entertainment
caused a great stir in political circles.

At the Hotel Vendome, where her
suite, consisting of her private secretary, J. D. Amokua, Mrs. A. C.
Aldrich and Miss Rose Otis, is also quartered, she would not consent to be interviewed. She insisted that she wanted no publicity and that she must have quiet.

LEADS IN CROWDING OF NEW ARRIVALS

Boston Is the City Most Con-
gested by Aliens

Washington, Feb. 1.—In the matter of overcrowding its immigrant population Boston is the worst big city in the country, according to the report presented to congress by the immigration commission. The report
declares that there are more immigrants living in a room in Boston than in any other immigrant center in the whole United States.

In consequence, living conditions
are pictured as far less favorable in
the tenements in Boston than elsewhere.

The average number of persons per 100 rooms occupied was found to be 144 in the immigrant center of Boston, while it averaged in Philadelphia
141, New York and Cleveland 139
each, Buffalo 133, Chicago 126 and Milwaukee 115.

lieved to have been found in the liver

tinued.

PARIS RALLIES FROM DISASTER

Must Not Be Forgotten

CLEANING UP HAS BEGUN

Owners of Flooded Houses Warned of

—Scores of Families Half-Famished
—Starving Dogs a Source of Danger
In Suburbs of French Capital

Paris, Feb. 1.—The improvement
in the general situation continues, and
the spirits of the Parisians are rising
as the waters fall.

With the crisis past, the mercurial
French temperament faces the subsidiary troubles with a light heart,
but the papers are already sounding a note of warning that the lesson must not be forgotten, that measures must be taken to avoid a repetition of the disaster.

This can be done by the construction of a cut-off either in the way of a canal or a large conduit around Paris.

The prefect of the department of the Seine has issued instructions to the owners of flooded houses to clean and disinfect their premises within twenty-four hours after the subsidence of the waters to the satisfaction of the municipal architects. Otherwise the work will be done at the cost and risk
of the owners.

Several steam pumps have resumed
the work of pumping out the subway,
and considerable progress is being made in the sections where the flood
is lowest.

Public and private benevolence
continue to respond to the call of the sufferers. All the theatres and musical societies are organizing benefits,
while the various race courses are ar-
ranging a big meeting for the spring,
the receipts of which will go to the poor.

A resolution has been introduced in the chamber of deputies, asking the government to award special Crosses
of the Legion of Honor to those who have been conspicuous in the rescue
work.

Although the papers are printing
columns of pitiful stories, a hundredth
part of the horror and agony suffered
will never be known. Many corpses
have been swept down the river, and
occasionally a coffin in a boat, which had probably broken away from a
funeral procession, is seen.

Scores of half-famished families
have been rescued from their homes,
and there are hundreds still occupying their half-submerged houses waiting for the water to recede.

A source of danger has been the starving dogs roaming around Allorville and Ivry, and many of these have been shot in the fear that they might develop rabies. In several instances they have made attacks upon human beings.

The government has arranged to loan money to the ruined houses and
shop owners to enable them to rebuild immediately. These loans may be refunded in installments.

Some of the suburban towns, which have been deprived of light, were provided last evening with gas from the Paris mains. The work of disinfection in the streets has already begun.

LABOR EXCHANGES OPEN

England Inaugurates a New System to Help the Unemployed

London, Feb. 1.—The inauguration
of the new system of national labor
exchanges, created by the Liberal government as a preliminary step in dealing with the unemployed problem,
took place today, when exchanges
were opened throughout the country
without formal ceremony.

One hundred exchanges will be started in February, and 150 more during the next six months. Their object is neither charity nor relief,
but only to serve to bring men desiring work into touch with employers
wanting labor.

GIRLS WIN BIG STRIKE

All but About Six Hundred Shirt-
waist Makers Return to Work

New York, Feb. 1.—The union leaders announce the surrender of three of the largest manufacturers in the city, thus practically ending the strike of the girl shirtwaist makers.

At the Women's Trade Union league,
Miss Mary Dreier, the president, said
that the strike has been a great victory for the girls and that all but
about 600 of the 30,000 who were originally involved will be back at work
today.

Explosion Wrecks a Store
Newburyport, Mass., Feb. 1.—
Hundreds of dollars' worth of damage
at Collins' drug store was caused by fire that started from an exploding
alcohol stove. The roof of the store
is practically a total wreck.

Military League to Dissolve Athens, Feb. 1.—The king has assembled to the convocation of the assembly, and he will appoint M. Dragoulis to form an extra-parliamentary government. The Military league will then voluntarily dissolve.

FAIL TO LOCATE FORTUNE

Maine Couple Recall That Relative
Now Dead Was a Joker

Tacoma, Wash., Feb. 1.—"Dead
men tell no tales," but that they sometimes play practical jokes is attested to by Mr. and Mrs. E. B.
Joues of Portland, Me., who arrived
here after a fruitless trip to Ellen-burg, to claim a bequest of real estate made to Mrs. Jones in her brother-in-law's will. They could find no trace of the property described in the testament of the deceased.

Mrs. Jones has recalled that her brother, who was William Trilham,
was a great practical joker. He willed his brother and two sisters parcels of land in widely separated regions. Mrs.
Jones' brother was bequeathed a tract
in Florida, and her sister a half section in Texas.

The will, which was opened Christmas, directed the legatees to claim their lands without delay. Mr. and Mrs. Jones are waiting to hear from the other "beneficiaries" who have gone south to investigate their bequests.

BLACKMAIL, SAYS WARRINER

Paid Mrs. Ford at the Rate of $1000 a Month For Seven Years

Cincinnati, Feb. 1.—The children
of Mrs. Jeannette S. Ford were barred from the court room when their mother was placed on trial on a charge of blackmailing C. L. Warriner, local treasurer of the Big Four, who is now serving a term in state prison for thefts from the railroad.

Warriner took the stand in citizen's clothes, having doffed his convict's
garb. "Last September," he said, "I told her the demands must be kept down as it had come to a time when I could not meet them. Her reasons for coming to me for money was because she was protecting me by not making public the Big Four shortage."

Warriner said he had paid Mrs.
Ford $84,000 since 1902 at the rate of $1000 a month.

COULD NOT ESCAPE CLUTCHES OF LAW

Martin Sentenced to Three Years' Imprisonment

Boston, Feb. 1.—Everett F. Martin, son of the late ex-Mayor and Police Commissioner Martin, pleaded guilty to charges of larceny and was sentenced to a term of three years in the house of correction.

Martin was charged with the larceny
of sums amounting to about $2000,
which he obtained as the sales agent
for automobiles.

The charges against him were made
many months ago, and he suddenly disappeared, going to Havana, where he remained, some time later returning to New York. From there he went to Hartford.

MONEY NOT RECOVERED

Two Women Charged With Man's Offenses in Connection With Holdup

New York, Feb. 1.—Jessie Roberts and May Williams, the women accused of holding up and robbing Warner M. Van Norden of $28,000 recently, have considerable to answer for
in court in connection with their alleged offense as the result of grand jury action in their cases.

The grand jury handed down a joint indictment charging the women with robbery in the first degree, grand larceny in the first degree, and receiving stolen goods.

The money which they are charged with taking from the banker has never turned up.

CUBAN NEGRO TALE

The news comes from Cuba that Negro leaders on the island are ambitious to organize a Negro political party and make it the ruling force in another black republic—perhaps like Haiti or Domingo.

It is not impossible, but it is extremely doubtful for government is not the strong point of the colored race. The Negroes in the United States are proportionally as numerous in some states as they are in Cuba and much better fitted for such a task, and they have not done it.

Possibly the time will come, however.

A WORD FROM MELLE

President Mellen of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad was the principal speaker in New York on Sunday night at the Union convention of Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers.

President Mellen referred briefly to the proposed employers' liability act, which he asked, if it must come, should come by degrees. He called attention to the fact, almost unknown and never appearing in the newspapers, that his corporation had a pension fund of two hundred names, paying out $200,000 a year to which no employees had to pay a cent.

Mr. Mellen said that he wanted as well as his men a ten-hour day; he wanted double pay for overtime and if the men would help him he promised to help them and said they should work as fellow employees together. "Think it over," said Mr. Mellen. "Let's join hands, because if we don't go together we are both liable to get damaged."

Mr. Mellen has a good record for doing as he agrees, and his speech on that occasion will doubtless postpone the threatened strike and the public hope is that there will be time to arrange matters so as to prevent a strike.

BIRDS' EYE VIEWS

Fred H. Daniels, native of New Hampshire and one of the best known engineers in the country, has been decorated with the Order of the North Star, by King Gustaf of Sweden, in recognition of his entertainment of representatives of the Swedish government to the United States.

Washington hears that New Hampshire militiamen will take part next summer in the maneuvers at Pine Plains, N. Y. That is contrary to the report sent out from Concord.

John Lorange of the Boston Advertiser has no hope that the next speaker of the national house will be from New England. But he says: "Mr. Currier would make an admirable speaker. He has presided over the house to the great satisfaction of the members. He is not without prestige, for he is chairman of the Republican caucus, and handled himself so well in the recent caucus which the insurgents attended and where a mistake might have marred seriously the harmony everybody wanted to establish."

that he won unstinted praise from the insurgents themselves."

AMONG OUR EXCHANGES

A Suggestion from Lacenia

Washington newspaper men have been interviewing New England congressmen to ascertain how they feel about voting for Representative Weeks of Massachusetts as a candidate for speaker against Joe Cannon. Congressman Currier dodges the question, and Congressman Cy Sullivan cleverly ducks by suggesting that "it would not be courteous for me to say whom my successor in the next congress should vote for for speaker." Nobody who knows our talk congressman will consider this statement as an intimation that he contemplates declining another nomination, but with all due respect we will suggest that both congressmen from New Hampshire would enhance their chances for another term by restraining their enthusiasm for Joe Cannon, who is far from popular in the Granite state.—Lacenia Democrat.

A Job for Bwana Tumbo

Representative Howell of New Jersey has introduced in congress a bill providing for the issue of souvenir postal cards by the government, each card to have printed upon it "a copyright epigram," with "a border of suitable design, illustrative of the dress and customs of the people of colonial times." The bill provides that the revenue from the sale of the cards, after paying the cost thereof, shall go one-half to the post office department to reduce the annual deficit and the other half to provide a pension fund for postal employees. The idea is a good one. Of course, if the bill is passed an official government epigramist will be necessary. And this may suggest a way out of the trouble over what to do with our ex-president when he returns from Africa. Believing that the writing of epigrams for the people would be congenial employment for him, we nominate Theodore Roosevelt for the position.—Blideford Journal.

Sky Highways

A short time ago Count Lambert, in a flight over Paris, violated a police regulation forbidding aeroplaning over the city. He was fined $4. A short time afterward at the Rheims met an aviator was fined for reckless driving. Now the suggestion has been made that soon all American cities will have to condemn certain strips in the air as highways for flying machines.

It sounds fatuous, but it is becoming a real problem. New hotels in New York are to have aero stations in their roofs, where aeroplanes may alight, and the chauffeurs to a post go inside and get refreshments. The possibilities of the science of aeroplanes are full and fine. When the science is perfected and aeroplanes are selling for the price of automobiles the air will probably be all of them. There will be no more head-on collisions, runaways and races.

Flights on moonlight nights probably will become a feature, and rides through the clouds will replace sleighing. The air then will have to be laid out like the highways below. There will have to be regular traffic regulations—one strip of air for the eastbound airships and another for the westbound ships.—Washington Post.

For the Good of the Service. Chief Forester Pluchot was disciplined for the good of the service, as a penalty for gross insubordination. There is equal reason for similar action for the good of the service in the navy department, where subordinates appear to consider it within the properties of their positions and of departmental discipline, to organize and engineer a cabal to set at naught the policies which the head of the department, the direct representative of the chief executive of the administration, is seeking to carry out. A show of authority would be a good thing in straightening out the naval tangle.—Boston Herald.

The Catholic Union and the Elks will roll this evening in the club bowling schedule, a change having been made to accommodate the P. C. U. team, as their fair ones on Wednesday evening. The Royal Arcanum and the P. A. C. will roll their game on Thursday evening, having exchanged dates.

WAR ON "RATS" AND "PUFFS"

A widespread crusade is now being carried on everywhere against the wearing of "rats" and "puffs" by women. Department stores and other institutions where girls are employed are posting notices fully forbidding such head dresses. Doctors are denouncing them as "unhygienic, dust and germ catchers." "Rats" and "puffs" are not merely unhealthy but they are the direct cause of falling hair and baldness in women. The network of veins in the scalp are destroyed by the heat and pressure of these artificial masses of hair and fiber and the natural result is baldness and disease. The best thing to use in restoring the scalp to a healthy condition is Birt's Head Wash, particularly in cases where the hair is dandruff, itching, scalp falling hair. This is the new scientific preparation with the full formula on every jar.

ORISON SWETT MARDEN
In Success MagazineNeglect Your Business
But Not Your Boy.

EVERY boy is going to have a confidant, some one to whom he can tell his secrets and whisper his hopes and ambitions which he would not breathe to others. We take it for granted that his mother will stand nearer to him than any other person, but every boy will have some male friend who will stand in a peculiar relation to him. This friend, this confidant, should be his father.

You can not afford to have your boy feel that you are too busy or too indifferent to tell him how to fly his kite or bait his hook or make a toy or to play games with him.

If you begin early enough, it is comparatively easy for you to gain your boy's confidence. From infancy he should grow up to feel that no one else can take your place; that you stand in a peculiar relation to him, which no one else can fill.

Any business man would be horrified at the suggestion that he would ruin his boy by neglect, that his absorption in business would result in the undoing of his own son. But it is the easiest thing in the world to forfeit a boy's confidence. It will take only a little snubbing, a little scolding, a little indifference, a little unkind criticism, a little nagging and unreasonableness to shut off forever any intimacy between you and your boy.

COOPER'S FOLLOWERS GIVE REASON FOR THEIR BELIEF

With a theory that human health is dependent on the stomach and with a medicine which he says proves this theory, L. T. Cooper, a comparative young man, has built up an immense following during the past year. Cooper has visited most of the leading cities of the country, and in each city has aroused a storm of discussion about his beliefs and his medicines. Wherever he has gone, people have called upon him by tens of thousands, and his preparation has sold in immense quantities.

The sale of this medicine has now spread over the entire country, and is growing enormously each day. In few of this, the following statements from two of the great number of followers which he now has, are of general interest.

N. V. Marsh, residing at 217 South Joly street, Los Angeles, Cal., has followed to say upon the subject of the Cooper preparations: "For more than a year I experienced the most intense suffering, due to a form of stomach trouble which the doctors called catarrhal gastritis. After eating I would fill up with gas, which caused frequent belching. The abdominal area would expand until could scarcely breathe, causing great distress. At such times I could not keep still, but paced the streets for hours until the pain subsided. "Frequently I went without eating rather than endure the torture that as sure to follow. Liquids were the only kind of food I could partake of with safety. I had spells of dizziness, and became badly run down through suffering and lack of proper nourishment. I tried various remedies in search of relief, but they failed to help me.

"Some time ago a brother member of a lodge to which I belong urged me to try the Cooper remedies, which were then being demonstrated in Los Angeles. He stated that to his personal knowledge they had been of great benefit to others in a like condition, and on the strength of his recommendation I procured a treatment of Cooper's New Discovery.

"It proved helpful from the first dose, and in less than a week I was eating regularly and heartily, without experiencing any bad effects afterward. Since taking the full treatment I am perfectly well and enjoy living for the first time in many months. Now I can eat a heavy supper, then go to bed and sleep like a healthy boy I feel so well that I can hardly realize I am the same man. Cooper's New Discovery has worked a marvelous change in me—it has done all that was claimed for it."

Another statement by Mr. W. R. Stewart, 109 Madison street, Chicago, is as follows: "I have had stomach trouble for years, and anyone who is afflicted this way knows what an awful distressed feeling it causes. Many a time I have felt that I would give most any price to be cured. It was by accident that I heard of this man Cooper's remedies. I immediately made up my mind to buy a treatment of him. I used it for about two weeks, and it is impossible to tell how much good it has done me. I feel altogether different. I have more life and energy than I have had for years. This medicine certainly does stimulate and strengthen the whole system. Tired feeling and weak condition of the stomach has entirely passed away. I feel well again."

Cooper's New Discovery is sold by all druggists. If your druggist cannot supply you we will forward you the name of a druggist in your city who will. Don't accept "something just as good."—The Cooper Medicine Co., Dayton, Ohio.

DOVER DOINGS

Dover, Feb. 1.—The death of Owen O'Brien, aged 68 occurred on Monday at the home, 19 Hanson street. Beside a wife he is survived by two sons, Owen of Apponaug, R. I., and Walter of Milford; three sisters, Mrs. James McAdam of Roxbury, Mrs. James Edwards and Mrs. James Hanahan of Waltham, Mass.

The funeral of Blanche A., infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Merchant, was held at St. Charles church on Sunday afternoon. The club department of the Women's art met on Monday afternoon with Miss Lou Peacock at 185 Central avenue.

John W. McDonald, who recently resigned his position as foreman carpenter at the Pacific Mills company, left here on Sunday for his new position in New York state. Austin S. Sanborn of the Kinder Press company will be Mr. McDonald's successor.

James Card of Lynn, Mass., formerly of this city, is visiting his mother for a few days.

The Episcopalian club is to hold a dancing party in Walker hall this evening.

William Howland, who was up in police court a short time ago on the charge of being an idle person and who was given a suspended sentence of sixty days at the time, was arrested Sunday evening on the street while he was in the act of soliciting funds to aid in the boycotting of work. In court he was given the sixty days on the old complaint with costs of $5.62, and on the begging charge was given an additional sixty days with costs of $6.75.

The funeral of John S. Clark was held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the late home on Horne street. Rev. Walter S. Bezanon, pastor of the Advent Christian church, was the officiating clergyman. There was singing by the choir from the church. The bearers were the four sons and four grandsons.

The trolley wire at the terminus of the Atlantic Shore Line railway on Franklin square fell to the ground on Sunday night. As there was no particularly high wind at the time it was thought that some of the staples holding the wires and forming braces must have given away. A working car was sent up from the Kittery car barns and the broken wire and pole were set right.

And Has to Go to the Hospital for Blood Poisoning

Rochester, Feb. 1.—John Perreault, assistant janitor at the new city building, is suffering from blood poisoning in his left hand and arm, and has been taken to the hospital at Portland, Me. Mr. Perreault was last week at work caring for plants in the basement of the city building and in some manner stuck a thorn into one of his fingers, and paid but little attention to it, but on Thursday it became so bad that he had to leave work and on Monday he had to be taken to the hospital.

ANNUAL BANQUET

Men's Club of Baptist Church Heard Able Address By Vice President
Hobbs of B. & M. R. R.

The annual banquet of the Men's Club of the Middle Street Baptist church was held at the chapel on State street on Monday evening and it was one of the largest attended and most enthusiastic meetings ever held by the club.

There was nearly 100 present at the banquet, which was served at 6.30 and it was served by the young ladies of Mrs. Lewis E. Staples' class and in charge of Mrs. W. O. Sides and Mrs. Frank W. West.

The following excellent menu was served and everybody did ample justice to it.

Scalloped Oysters.
Cold Ham, Carrot House Rolls
Olives, Pickles.
Fruit Salad, Wafers
Ice Cream, Assorted Cake
Pies, Coffee.

When coffee was reached, Rev. William P. Stanley, the toastmaster, called on Hon. William J. Hobbs, General Comptroller and Fourth Vice-President of the Boston and Maine railroad, and he gave a very interesting account of the work of the Morse class in the First Baptist church at Malden, Mass.

The next speaker was Rev. J. E. Norcross, the district secretary of the Baptist missions, and his talk on "Play the Game" was very interesting and entertaining. He is a good talker and he kept the audience in a continuous roar of laughter.

During the evening a male quartet composed of Messrs Ernest J. Silver, Ernest Billbruck, Harry Caswell and Edwin Morrow sang several selections. Mr. Fred B. Whitcomb was accompanist.

The committee in charge of the banquet were Messrs. A. P. Montgomery, Dr. F. S. Towle, Constructor John G. Tawressey, U. S. N. H. A. Veaton, Howard P. Smith, G. H. D. L'Amoureux and Rev. W. P. Stanley.

INTERSTATE
SEIZURE OF LIQUORS

New Bedford, Feb. 1.—Twenty-two barrels and ten cases of beer were seized at the freight depot yesterday by United States Deputy Marshal Waters, under the provisions of the Humphrey amendment of the interstate commerce law, and will be held by the local police until the cases come up for action, probably before United States Commissioner A. M. C. L. Goodspeed.

Deputy Marshal Waters arrived in the city from Boston Monday, and was met at the depot by Chief Mason and Patrolmen Smith and Mocher of the liquor squad.

Seventeen barrels of beer from Cincinnati were consigned to Druggist Alex A. Peit, four to L. Z. Norman and one to J. P. Lemaire. All came from Cincinnati, and the 10 cases, which came from Hartford, were consigned to C. W. Kinder.

This is the first seizure in the United States under the Humphrey amendment. The police here claim that the liquor is not marked according to the law.

The new federal act requires that liquors in interstate commerce shall be marked with the names of the consignees and the nature and quantity of the contents of the barrels or bottles.

A maximum penalty of $5000 is provided for each shipment improperly marked. The act went into effect Jan. 1 and is similar as to the requirements for marking liquors for interstate shipment as the law of this state is as to liquor shipments within the state.

The alleged improper marking of these liquor shipments was brought to the attention of the federal authorities by the New Bedford police.

ST JOHN'S RECTOR

Report That He Has Closed His Rectory at Blideford

The Blideford Journal of Saturday last has the following relative to Rev. H. M. Folsom, who has been appointed rector at St. John's Episcopal church in this city:

The parishioners of Trinity church, Saco, will be exceedingly glad to learn that it has been found possible for the Rev. Harold M. Folsom, the retiring rector of Christ church, Blideford to be with them for one more service. Mr. Folsom was very desirous of this, but it was scarcely thought practicable. So tomorrow morning the Rev. Mr. Folsom will take the whole morning service and preach at Trinity church. And Trinity parish will have this one more chance to worship with and hear this honored priest, to whom the parish owes so much.

It has been previously announced in the papers of that city that Mr. Folsom would not take up his duties here before Easter Sunday.

EXCELLENT WORK OF THE ATLANTIC FLEET

Washington, Feb. 1.—Further excellent work by the Atlantic battleship fleet is reported by wireless to the navy department by Rear Admiral Schreider commander in chief who is putting the fleet through drill work and exercises off Guantanamo, Cuba.

"During past week called all ships and continued schedule work," the admiral said. "Missouri completed full power trial under forced draught and made within one revolution of contractor's full power trial. Excellent showing for ship seven years in commission. Regiments, consisting of leading forces of Georgia, New Jersey, Nebraska and Rhode Island, in camp entire week on Bear Point holding rifle and pistol target practice. Making high scores and having company, battalion and regimental drill. Started admiral inspection of the Connecticut, Vermont, Minnesota and New Hampshire. Boats' crews exercised daily under sails and oars. Several ships laid mines.

"Inspection held for more than three thousand five hundred men who casted target practice and field artillery practice on shore. Baseball games and other athletics on Saturday. More work on drills progressing satisfactorily. Health and spirit of fleet excellent."

PEARY ORDERED TO DUTY

Return to Navy Will Interfere with Benefits and Trip

Washington, Feb. 1.—Commander Robert E. Peary has completed his tidal and other observations made for the coast and geodetic survey in the Arctic regions and has been ordered to report to the navy department for regular duty.

New York, Feb. 1.—If Commander Peary resumes his duties in the navy department, it will interfere with testimonials in his behalf and with his arrangements to sail for Europe on April 27.

A national testimonial was to be held at the Metropolitan opera house Feb. 8 and other states had arranged similar benefits. He desired to address the Royal Geographical society in London and societies in other countries.

COMET GOING AWAY FAST

Speeding from Earth at Rate of 86,400 Miles a Day

Cambridge, Mass., Feb. 1.—Comet A 1910 is speeding away from the earth at the rate of 86,400 miles a day, or 41 miles a second, according to a telegram received at the Harvard College Observatory from the Lick Observatory.

The telegram states that Albrecht photographed the spectrum of the comet and found the sodium lines displaced, thus indicating the motion of the comet.

MELLEN'S PURCHASING AGENT

To Handle Work on Boston and Maine Railroad

The biggest stir in railroad circles for many months came out in a notice issued by President Lucius Tuttle of the Boston and Maine system on Monday, which will go in effect on March 1, 1910. The order directs the appointment of H. A. Fabian, a personal assistant of President Tuttle of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, as manager of purchases and supplies on the entire system of the Boston and Maine, Maine Central, Washington county and Somerset railroads.

Mr. Fabian, in this position, has full authority over all purchases, the care and distribution of material and supplies of every nature, and will receive orders from President Tuttle on this.

He will have supervision over purchasing agents, general store keepers, engineers of tests, fuel and supply agents. The headquarters for this new office will be in the south union station at Boston.

SECRETARY MEYER

May Criticize Bureau Chiefs Capps and Rogers

Washington, Feb. 1.—Secretary Meyer will have the last word with the House naval committee. It promises to be something very much to the point about Admirals W. L. Capps and Eustace B. Rogers, respectively heads of the bureau of construction and repair and the bureau of supplies and accounts.

There are officials who regard the testimony of Admiral Rogers as "important insubordination." The latter before the house committee on naval affairs assailed the reorganization plan in unmeasured terms. Officials hold that Admiral Rogers' antagonism leaves the plain inference that he and his corps are resisting a reorganization plan on its merits.

Secretary Meyer feels that if he ignores the criticisms it will encourage the warfare of the line and the staff which has been waging at intervals for years, much to the detriment of the service. He feels also that it would seriously hamper the trial of navy yard reorganization. It is whispered about the department that Admiral Rogers will probably not be reappointed a year from now.

Admiral Capps' testimony has not been printed, and the secretary has seen only extracts. He will await the appearance of the full text. Admiral Cone, chief of steam engineering, will be given an opportunity to reply to Admiral Capps about costs of repair work.

Reclassification of appropriations to fit the bureau is the chief question before the House committee. It has been discovered that a law which Secretary Meyer himself cited is an obstacle to this reclassification. Representative Dawson of Iowa has suggested that a new proviso be inserted giving the secretary discretion to assign appropriations according to his discretion.

LOCAL DASHES.

The milk producers are setting busy. Nothing doing in municipal court today.

Barnabe and Earl will be at Music Hall next Monday.

Read the exclusive local news every day in the Herald.

The tree warden will shortly be swinging his little hatchet.

A few illuminated buoys in the harbor and river should come next. Itching piles provoke profanity, but profanity won't cure them. Doan's Ointment cures itching bleeding or protruding piles after years of suffering. At any drug store.

There Only by Inference.

An Englishman coming by train to Glasgow for the first time and passing Motherwell Junction said to a gentleman opposite, with whom he had been chatting:

"Queer name, 'Motherwell.' Is there a 'Fotherwell' next?"

"No," was the reply, "but we come immediately to 'Bothwell.'"—London "Tit-Bits."

The Word Gazette.

The word gazette is from the name of an old Venetian coin worth about one-half cent of our money. The name is applied to newspapers because it was the sum charged for reading the first written journals that made their appearance in 1550. After the paper was read it was handed back to the owner, who charged the next corner a gazette for taking a peep at it.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY.

The Dialogue That Took Place After the Dance Ended.

A well known and popular Los Angeles physician upon the occasion of a recent visit to a professional friend at Fresno (the physician in charge of the state institution for the deaf and dumb) was invited to attend one of the periodical "hops" given the inmates. All the unfortunate and a yearly sprinkling of guests were present.

Before the function had progressed very far the Fresno physician approached his Los Angeles medical friend with, "Get busy, doctor!" The doctor got busy. Although tipping the scales at 210, he is an easy and graceful dancer and much enjoys the exercise. Approaching a young lady of singular sweetness and beauty, he indicated his desire to dance with her. She proved to be as witching with her feet as with her eyes, and our Los Angeles friend, in contempt of all convention, danced two or three numbers with her.

At the close of the last one a gentleman approached his charming partner and asked for the next dance. "I should be delighted to favor you, my friend," said she in a voice no less sweet than her face, "but I've promised to dance the next number with this dummy here!"

Each had taken the other for an inmate—Los Angeles Times.

Subtraction That Adds.

The air was sweet with the smell of willow wood, and the artificial limb maker was adjusting a delicate metal spring in a superb leg.

"This one of a pair of legs," he said, "I am making for an aviator. They are longer legs than his own were. His height before the accident was only five feet six. Now, with these legs, he will be five feet ten."

"Men all like to be tall. And short men, when, as sometimes happens, they lose both legs, gratify this universal desire for height by ordering wooden legs of an excessive length."

"Yes, paradoxical though it seems, cut a short man's legs off and he becomes taller."—Exchange.

Adam and the Apple.

The old Marchioness of Salisbury one Sunday was at church, a rare thing with her, and the preacher, speaking of the fall, observed that Adam, excusing himself, had cried out, "Lord, the woman tempted me!" At this quotation Lady Salisbury, who appeared not to have heard of the incident before, jumped up in her seat, saying, "Snabby fellow, indeed!"—Memories of the Duchess of Dino.

Answered.

Captain Jerome while visiting Colonel Higginson took a Durringer from the table and asked, "This thing loaded?" But before the colonel could reply the weapon was discharged, the bullet tearing away one of the fingers of the visitor.

The colonel, who is widely known on account of his extreme politeness, bowed gracefully and rejoined, "Not now, my dear captain."—Argonaut.

Dante's Fierce Retort.

The secret of Dante's struggle through life was in the reckless sarcasm of his answer to the Prince of Verona, who asked him how he could account for the fact that in the household of princes the court fool was in greater favor than the philosopher.

"Similarity of mind," said the fierce genius, "is all the world over the source of friendship."

It May Be That the Person You are Looking for Lives on Your Street—

The problem in making a quick and satisfactory sale is to find the right man who wants to buy.

The real estate agent knows that every place of property on his list is a bargain for someone. The landlord knows that his vacant office or house is exactly what someone is looking for, and they may live on the same street and not get together. The housewife with a room to let knows that to some one it would be the prettiest "one-room home" in town.

For all these people the Herald's classified ads. afford the practical way to find their special somebody—to go out over the city and pick out quickly, certainly, the right people.

Our Idea in Advertising

Is not so much to sell a Suit or Overcoat as it is to get a customer. There is a big difference between selling a man a suit and getting him for a regular customer.

Our object is to sell a man such a good suit the first time that he comes back for another one next season, and keeps coming back until he gets the habit of coming—a habit that he finds too good to break.

There are many things about our Suits and Overcoats that we could tell you, but long years of experience tells us, that a satisfied customer is one of the best advertisements a Tailor can have.

Let us make you a Suit or Overcoat this season.

AT NAVY YARD

Navy Men Must be Swimmers

Mate Bitter Is Through with Service

A Naval Prison Item
The Observant Citizen publishes the following in the Boston Post: "Captain Turrill of the Portsmouth navy yard, in charge of the naval prison during the absence of Major Leonard, the commandant, tells me that the prisoners confined there are always plotting and planning to escape, but that their schemes are invariably found out and punishment speedily meted out to the offenders."

The Last Chapter in the Case
Mate Frank R. Bitter, U. S. N., who was sentenced by the court martial board to six months on the Southery in connection with the capsizing of the tug Nezineet off Gloucester coast on August 11 last, and the actions which followed in the lifeboat, completed his term today. During his confinement here a strong fight has been made by senators, congressmen and Spanish American war veterans in the state of Pennsylvania for the release of Mate Bitter which apparently was of no avail. Much sympathy is expressed for Bitter among navy men and people who know him in civil life, owing to the unfortunate circumstances which surrounded the whole affair.

They Have Got to Know Swimming
The navy department has at last taken action in the matter of its men having knowledge of swimming. In and about Guantanamo last week the commanders of the U. S. S. Connecticut, Vermont, Minnesota and New Hampshire ordered 3500 men to take a dip and during the week 322 of them picked up the art and now have no use for life preservers.

More Pay for Helpers
The boat builders' helpers at the yard have been granted an increase in wages.

Got Their Dough Today
The classified employees of the yard were paid today.

Wait and See
One of the clerical force at the yard will shortly hand out a surprise to his fellow clerks in the several departments.

Will Sail Next Week
Watchman Charles A. Myers of the yard force, who has been on a visit to his former home in Germany, will sail on his return trip on Tuesday next.

Former Foreman Long Gets Increased Pension

Michael E. Long, a veteran of the civil war and for many years employed at the yard as foreman boiler-maker, has been granted an increase of pension by a special act of congress, which amounts to $30.00 per month. He rendered gallant service to his country in the dark days of '61 to '65 and his friends are pleased to hear of the substantial increase to his voucher.

Going South Later

The Dubuque has been ordered to Pensacola, Fla., to arrive on Feb. 6, for the Mardi Gras celebration. Upon the completion of this duty the vessel will proceed to Tampa, Fla., to arrive on Feb. 11, for the Panama Canal celebration. The Dubuque will leave Tampa about Feb. 27 to resume duty in West Indian waters.

A WOMAN SHOT

Died from Lockjaw After a Week of Suffering

Nashua, Feb. 1.—Mrs. Eugene Wells died on Monday at St. Joseph's hospital of tetanus, or lockjaw, after intense suffering. The disease was the result of a gunshot wound received while target shooting at North Conway a week ago. Mrs. Wells and her husband had gone to North Conway to hunt, and in some way the rifle with which she was practicing was accidentally discharged and the contents took effect in her left foot. She was hurried to her home and medical aid invoked, but in vain and late in the week symptoms of tetanus developed and she was carried to the hospital, where her foot was amputated by Dr. A. S. Wallace and large quantities of anti-toxin administered. The disease had made such progress, however, that she was unable to recover. The body was removed to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Delano, on Bridge street.
